The most prestigious Turkish TV drama ever produced, from the Turkish drama powerhouse, Ay Yapım.

Starring Kivanç Tatlıtuğ and Farah Zeynep Abdullah in the title roles, this epic series is a true love story adapted from a bestselling novel by Nermin Bezmen and tells the story of the dashing, womanizing Lieutenant Kurt Seyit - the first son of a rich Crimean landowner of Turkish origin - who falls in love with Sura, the beautiful daughter of a noble Russian family. But Seyit's father has always been convinced his son should marry a Turkish girl and continue their line, so their love faces many challenges.

Although the lovers are initially separated by Seyit's orders to war, he is injured and returns to St Petersburg, where revolution has erupted. Since he is a soldier in the Tsar's army, neither he nor his love Sura are safe in Bolshevik Russia. Against the wishes of their families, the lovers flee together, making a dangerous journey across the Black Sea to seek sanctuary in Istanbul during the last days of the Ottoman Empire where they must fight for their love against the forces of family, the expectations of society and the events of history.
